INDIAN CHILD WELFARE ACT

When Does ICWA Apply?

- In a “child custody proceeding” defined as an action effecting foster care placement, termination of parental rights, pre-adoptive placement or adoptive placement; and
- Involving an “Indian child” defined as
 - Unmarried, under the age of 18, and a member of a federally recognized Indian Tribe or eligible for membership in a Tribe, as determined by the Tribe; or
 - Unmarried, under the age of 18, and is the biological child of a member of a federally recognized Indian Tribe, as determined by the Tribe

Each of the 500-plus federally-recognized tribes determines eligibility for membership or enrollment, not the court

If ICWA applies, please refer to NCJFCJ ICWA Checklists:

<http://www.ncjfcj.org/resource-library/publications/tribal-work-and-icwa>

Notice

- The child’s parent, Indian Custodian, and Tribe have been notified by registered mail, return receipt requested
- If Tribe cannot be determined, the court must ensure notice to the Secretary of the Interior and the Bureau of Indian Affairs by registered mail, return receipt requested
- Finding on the record that timely notice was or was not provided as required

If not sure, but Indian heritage is indicated or identified, NOTIFY!

Placement Preferences

- Placement according to ICWA Preferences, defined in descending order (extended family, tribal foster home, or tribal community) unless good cause shown for child to be moved

Special Evidentiary Rules

- Threshold for Removal of the Child
 - “Clear and convincing evidence” that custody of the child by the parent or Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child
 - Must include testimony of a “qualified expert witness” defined by ICWA in descending preferential order, with the highest preference given to a member of the child’s tribe who is recognized by the tribal community as knowledgeable in tribal customs in childrearing practices
 - Finding of “Active Efforts” to prevent removal from the home
- Threshold for Termination of Parental Rights
 - Evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that custody of the child by the parent of Indian custodian is likely to result in serious emotional or physical damage to the child
 - Supported by testimony of a “qualified expert witness”
 - Finding that “Active Efforts” have been made to return the child to the home

Best practices for Active Efforts include: (i) early contact and active engagement with the child’s tribe; (ii) higher level of efforts using methods and providing services that are culturally appropriate; and (iii) commitment to the spirit of ICWA in the context of the historical trauma
